Interested in construction trade job opportunities?

Attend This Free Construction Job Training Fair

Individuals interested in working in construction careers need to prepare now by acquiring the necessary skills construction companies will be looking for to help build the Next NGA West – and other construction projects throughout the region.

Next NGA West construction is anticipated to begin in 2019.

Why Should I Attend?

Anyone interested in a career in the construction trades with the opportunity to meet representatives of organizations involved in the Next NGA West project should attend. Attendees will learn more about training opportunities that will prepare them for upcoming construction jobs related to this 5-year mega project.

- Representatives for pre-apprentice and apprenticeship training programs will be present
- Meet representatives from key organizations, including the St. Louis Building Trades B.U.D Training Program, St. Louis Agency on Training and Employment (S.L.A.T.E), the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, and the NGA
- Explore career opportunities across the region with representatives of numerous St. Louis trade unions and construction-related training organizations – highlighting skills that include but are not limited to:
  - Carpentry
  - Electrical Work
  - Fabrication
  - Heavy Equipment Operation
  - HVAC
  - Plumbing
- Free on-site parking will be available

What is the Next NGA West?

Next NGA West is the largest federal investment project in the history of St. Louis. It is a mega project jointly managed by the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, and U.S. Air Force. The 97-acre site is located at the intersection of Jefferson and Cass Avenues. The project will feature an approximately 712,000 square foot office building, parking garages, visitor center, inspection facility, and access control points.
